

All these processes involve nonequilibrium reaction networks driven by ATP hydrolysis.

The resulting costs of expressing even a single extra protein can be evolutionarily significant for single-celled organisms.

Ilker & Hinczewski, Phys. Rev. Lett. (2019)

Lynch & Marinov, Proc. Natl. Acad. Sci. (2015)